FOREWORD

Witnessing TRANSITION at Lenoir Rhyne, the faculty and administration have ignited the flame of knowledge within the students. The focus of their strivings has been a greater intellectual challenge to students. Viewing with misgiving and disapproval, at times, the student undertakings, they have demonstrated patience and understanding, have offered encouragement, have given reassurance, have expressed trust.

For four years student government has been experiencing critical growing pains. The opportunity and challenge of expanding from a student-faculty government to a student government has been precariously accepted by students and faculty and, in part, accomplished. In a trial period, mistakes have been made, faults recognized, changes initiated, and some progress realized. There has developed a sense of responsibility, a sense of understanding and trust and confidence among students and faculty and administration.

Contributing to the learning process, the co-curricular activities offer avenues of self-expression and self-development. Any major field or personal interest that a student might choose is represented by some group on campus. The religious organizations strengthen bonds within denominational differences, while sports both provide an outlet for enthusiasm and exemplify the principles of cooperation and good sportsmanship. Both, sacred and secular, these activities most fully complete the roundness of a truly well-educated personality.

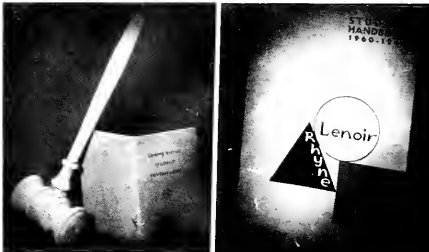

The fraternities and sororities promote strong bonds of fraternal brotherhood and sisterhood. Joining hands for a common purpose, many find the kind of companionship that adds meaning to life. True friendship grows from a genuine interest in and a concern for others, an exchange of ideas and ideals, a complete trust and continuing communication with acquaintances made at college. To choose our honors, we have looked beyond external features to find qualities of essential value, qualities of true beauty.

The nucleus of the college is the four classes who are on the quest for knowledge. Some students do not make the grade; others feel the need to seek another campus; and still others find greater interest in marriage. The senior class has been a part of a great TRANSITION. Each class, each individual has helped in the search for truth to write this yearbook, the 1961 HACAWA.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

In the process of growth and development a college, like a person, will undergo continuous change. Sometimes we are amazed at the transformation which can take place on a campus within the four brief years of a student generation.

Changes are most likely to contribute to progress if they adhere to a central purpose which remains constant. College facilities, methods and programs may vary to cope with new conditions, while the abiding concern of the institution is fullness of life for all students through the knowledge and achievement of supreme and enduring values.

Although outward appearances have changed, the basic purposes, ideals and objectives of Lenoir Rhyne have persisted. May these ever unite her sons and daughters in a kinship of loyalty, devotion and service to the truth which makes men free.

DEPARTMENT HEADS

The college faculty has experienced one of the busiest years in the history of Lenoir Rhyne. Faculty members have been vitally concerned with raising academic standards and improving the cultural atmosphere on the campus. Grading has become stricter and course requirements more exacting.

FACULTY

Engaged in a "self-study" to meet the new procedures outlined by the regional accrediting agency in order that a college or university continue its accreditation, they have spent many hours in studying all aspects of the institution: its objectives and purposes, the curricula, and the many standards which a quality college must meet.

STUDENT WORKERS

Earning a part of their college expenses through their on-campus jobs, the student workers are seen daily in many phases of college life. Employed in classroom, auditorium, or science laboratory, the faculty assistants wield their tools—the typewriter, mimeograph machine, marking pencil, and roll book.

A cheerful smile and the question "May I help you?" are the trademarks of the library assistants. Their duties include finding periodicals and reference materials, checking out books, and adding up fines on overdue books.

"Please pass your plates to the end of the table." To those of us who enjoy LR's family style meals, these are familiar words. They are spoken by the members of the dining hall crew, who besides waiting at regular meals also serve at special banquets for civic and community organizations.

Important general news, the latest in sports, and publicity of all major events are funneled to the scattered friends of Lenoir Rhyne through the Public Relations office. The staff also handles a steady flow of correspondence and publishes a monthly Alumni Bulletin.

The voice of Lenoir Rhyne's student body—in every way concerned with the wel-fare and wishes of the individual student—by conducting elections, by evaluating the needs for and the purposes of campus organizations, and by upholding the standards for citizenship, the Cabinet fulfills its function as the legislative body of student gov-ernment.

STUDENT CABINET

STUDENT COURT

To hear and to try any student charged with any of the major Constitutional violations—dishonesty, gambling, vandalism, or intoxication—is the duty of the Student Court. The court is made up of the President and the Vice-President of the Student Body, plus a representative from each class, as appointed by action of the Student

Cabinet. The court can declare a trial open or closed to public attendance. In this past year of adjustment and unification within the student governing bodies, the decisions of the Student Court have favorably demonstrated the deep sense of responsibility and loyalty that the Lenoir Rhyne community feels toward her new Constitution.

DAY COMMISSION

Created by the Constitution as the governing body for Lenoir Rhyne's day students, the Day Commission consists of a day student delegate to Student Cabinet from each of the four classes. As a judicial body, the Day Commission has the responsibility of trying at a closed trial any day student accused of some infraction other than gambling, dishonesty, vandalism or intoxication. This year the Student Cabinet appointed the members of the Day Commission to be a special committee to investigate the needs of day students in becoming more a part of the activities on campus.

WOMEN'S HALL COMMISSION

■ The two hall commissions, one for the men's dormitories and one for the women's dormitories, are elected by and from the membership of the house councils. An integral part of the present Constitution, they have the authority to try students charged with violations of dormitory regulations, and act as counsels to the head residents. The main project undertaken by the hall commission this year has been the effort to combine the three existing commissions into the one proposed student commission.

■ The House Council is responsible for fellowship and cooperation within a particular dormitory as well as among other Lenoir Rhyne students. It also maintains a standard of dormitory life which conforms to the ideals of Lenoir Rhyne College.

Each dormitory has its individual House Council. Members are elected on the basis of one (1) Floor Representative for each ten (10) students. An academic average of 79.00 or better is required for membership.

The House Council meets approximately twice a month and is responsible for House meetings, dormitory parties and other activities related to the particular dormitory.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

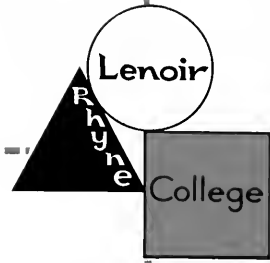

■ The members of the Dean of Student's Advisory Committee represent nearly every facet of student life so that the very informal discussion periods may reflect different points of view. The Committee was devised two years ago purely to advise the Dean of Students regarding problems and possible solutions in the everyday life of the student body.

PUBLICATION COMMITTEE

■ The Committee on Student Publications, composed of both student and faculty representatives, is held responsible for the general activities of campus publications, for the discovery of need for additional publications within the campus community and for the nomination of candidates for editor and business manager of all student publications even though elected by the Student Body.

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL

■ Uniting representatives from all campus religious groups, the Religious Council strives to instill in fellow students a Christian attitude toward the pursuit of knowledge and to foster a spirit of fellowship and cooperation among the members of all participating organizations. Each year this coordinating body sponsors the Faith and Life Series and periodic Student Services in the college church. Through its annual Campus Chest Drive, the Religious Council enables the student body to contribute in a united appeal toward the aid of charitable and health organizations.

YWCA

Organized in affiliation with the national Y.W.C.A., the Young Women's Christian Association works to promote Christian experiences on campus. Bi-monthly meetings are centered around programs of national, community and personal interests.

The annual Little Sister-Big Sister program is sponsored by the "Y" to welcome incoming freshman women.

Other activities include providing food for a needy family and being co-sponsors with Diakonia Fellowship for the campus Christmas caroling.

Approximately eighty women hold membership in Y.W.C.A. Judy Yoder serves as president, along with Judy Zimmerman, vice-president, Carol Beckerdite, secretary, and Becky Carter, treasurer.

RELIGIOUS GROUPS

DIAKONIA FELLOWSHIP

Christian Service is the keystone of Diakonia Fellowship—service to fellow students, to Lenoir Rhyne, to the community and to the Christian church. Diakonia provides an atmosphere in which a person interested in full-time Christian service may find fellowship, encouragement, and opportunity for spiritual growth.

This group of men students serve as student hosts for Wednesday chapel services, conduct weekly dorm devotions, and help the Y.W.C.A. sponsor Christmas caroling. Some members help near-by churches with church schools and children's programs. Bob Mitchum, president, Wade Norman, vice-president, George Lingle, secretary-treasurer, and Jerry Wise, chaplain, are this year's officers.

Lutheran Student Association

LSA is a spiritual workshop whereby students may consider common problems and questions of interest in the light of a common faith. Composed of Lutheran and other interested students, this association seeks to witness in the academic community to Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior. Meeting every Sunday evening for study and fellowship, LSA is affiliated on the district, area and national levels with other LSA groups. Serving as officers this year are Edward Counts, president; Ruth Whittecar, vice-president; Jean Bozeman, secretary; and Bill Hoffner, treasurer. Dr. Wade Hook is advisor.

Methodist Student Movement

Associated with the national and state Methodist Student Movement, Lenoir Rhyne's MSM endeavors to help students deepen their Christian faith and to foster fellowship and ecumenical understanding.

Writing a more comprehensive constitution and establishing an advisory board, called the Campus-Church Relations Committee, have been two big projects for this year. Officers for 1960-61 include Virginia Abernathy, president; Peggy Foster, vice-president; and Andrea Triplett, secretary-treasurer. Professor Steve Shuford and Dr. Thomas Blackburn are advisors.

Baptist Student Union

Rendering a distinctive denominational ministry to Baptist students, the Baptist Student Union reminds each member of his responsibility to Christ, his Church, and his denomination; and provides inspiration and fellowship through a spiritual climate essential for Christian growth while in college.

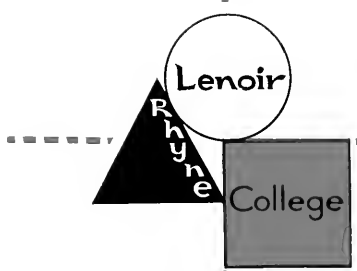

This year's officers are Hyldrith Bolch, president; Larry Elmore, vice-president; Shilda Berry, secretary; and Ned Gardner, treasurer. Professor Edsel Hoyle is faculty advisor and Dr. G. Othell Hand is pastoral advisor.

Canterbury Association

Canterbury Association is sponsored by the Episcopal Church and meets each Sunday evening at Hickory's Episcopal Church of the Ascension. Programs include informal roundtable discussions on a variety of subjects such as worship and ecumenical relations. Organized primarily for fellowship and study, Canterbury is open to students of all denominations.

Alex Viola, president; Bob Land, vice-president; and Ella Walters, secretary-treasurer, are officers for 1960-61. Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Simmons, Dr. Julian Smith, and the Rev. R. B. Campbell serve as advisors.

HACAWA

As "We've got to get this done. February 15 is our deadline!" echoed throughout the campus, the HACAWA staff was engrossed in getting copy from the student body and also searching everyone's file for last minute pictures. Then as the deadline approached, we wondered if our dummy would ever be published.

Publishing a yearbook is like raising a child. We watched "our child" grow from an empty dummy to a set of printer's and engraver's proofs and finally, to a beautifully bound book which we now treasure.

STAFF

The theme was chosen because the senior class has seen so many changes in the physical plant of Lenoir Rhyne. These seniors have also changed within themselves. As the school has moved toward progress, we hope that we as students have progressed toward adult maturity.

Now that our book is completed, the staff wishes that you would please excuse our accidental errors and that you will cherish it as a book which preserves your best college days. The entire HACAWA staff is thankful for the experience of living, knowing, and working with you for this the 1961 HACAWA.

JIM MARTIN
Editor-in-Chief

Perhaps too far ahead in its thinking at times, but never too far behind, the Lenoir Rhynean chronicled the transition.

Offering suggestions to ease the transitions, attempting to determine student reaction to it, and trying to compare it with that elsewhere . . .

Editor Jim Martin guided the chronicling, seldom subtly or gently, but usually effectively. Managing Editor Lyn Miller was his competent lieutenant, helping make the decisions and helping supervise the staff. And there were others—reporters, feature writers, columnists . . .

Pages amply studded with advertisements made the chronicling possible, and business manager Ross Hadley and his staff courageously flogged the wolf away from the door.

When the presses had rolled, Fred Hammer and his circulation staff distributed the papers, in order that the students might read of the transition.

Crusading when necessary, complimenting when deserved, scathing when called for, the Lenoir Rhynean was a key part of the transition.

LENOIR RHYNE BAND

After a slow start, the "Live Fifty five," under the direction of Dr. Gatwood, had a rousing year . . . Showers of "Endeavor, I say!" . . . Thanksgiving Day at Catawba . . . the Salisbury Christmas parade in 25 degree weather . . . those anxious days after the Northern Michigan game, until Hickory friends came through with the funds

. . . the all night bus ride to Florida . . . yells of "Victory!" at the Holiday Bowl . . . the Christmas Concert . . . these all are moments that will be cherished by members of the Lenoir Rhyne band from that wonderful year 1960.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

"... Do all to the glory of God." This reflects the spirit of Lenoir Rhyne's a cappella choir. Traveling from New York to Florida within the past four years, this group is well-known throughout the nation for its excellence in harmony and musical interpretation. Works of Bach to those of contemporary composers are found on this year's program as LR's "Singing Ambassadors" uphold their tradition of the best in sacred music. A series of Sunday Concerts and the week-long tour of North Carolina during April climaxed months of diligent practice. Now in its twenty-sixth year under the direction of Professor Kenneth B. Lee, the a cappella choir is one of the best-loved and long-to-be-remembered of college activities.

The Lenoir Rhyne Playmakers claim their main objective is to stimulate interest in the dramatic arts and to provide practical experience in the theatre.

Re-organized under a new constitution, the Playmakers presented Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" this fall. An experimental student-directed drama "Family Portrait" was given at a Monday convocation program. The group cooperated with the Junior Class in their annual production and presented several workshops on the art of dramatics. Advisor duties of the organization are shared this year by Mrs. Charles Jeffers, Mr. John Sneden, and Mr. George Spence.

■ The tradition of the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament was continued under the supervision of forensic director "Coach" Bud Brown. Short on experience, but long on effort, the debaters, almost all novices, investigated the pros and cons of compulsory health insurance. They took part in debates at Emory University in Atlanta and captured a majority of the awards at the Appalachian Mountain Tournament. Several of the more experienced team members earned the privilege of competing at the Florida State University tourneys in February.

Many qualities make champions. The 1960 Bear football team had all of them in abundance.

As the season progressed, and foe after foe fell before the speed and the finesse of the Stas single wing, the Bowl fever struck.

We lived in suspended animation for ten minutes following the heart-stopping tie with Northern Michigan in the Regional play-offs. But finally came the announcement "Lenoir Rhyne," and jubilation reigned in the Bear Cave.

In St. Petersburg determination replaced jubilation. The Lumberjacks of Humboldt kept chopping away at the Bears' defense. But they were no match for the drive of the Bears who brought home the big silver trophy and the 1st National football championship in the state's history.

Congratulations to our Bears!!!

COACH BILL WELLS

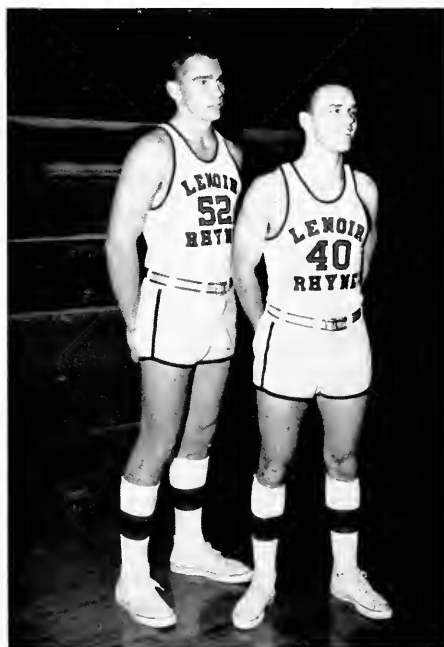

The 1960-61 LR basketball season was a true indication of what results from desire and determination. Coach Bill Wells, with only one returning letterman, guided the youthful Bears to a 21-5 record. With four sophomores in the starting line-up, the Bears showed a "never say die" attitude which helped produce many thrills during the past season. The biggest thrill was a 65-64 win over Belmont Abbey. The LR Cagers scored 16 straight wins, which enabled them to cope regular season honors.

1961 CAGE

Co-Captains Jerry Wells and Tommy Burton gained first team All Conference honors, and Jim Wiles received honorable mention. Wells was also recipient of the Athlete of the Week award from the Greensboro Daily News.

The Bears molded a balanced attack with four starters averaging in double figures. Wells led the Cagers from the floor with a 55% shooting accuracy, while Eddie Holbrook hit 85% from the foul line including 31 consecutive tosses.

LR was the offensive leader in the North State Conference with an average of 78 points per game. Defensively the Bears ranked second.

The Bears qualified for the NAIA District play-offs with the best over-all seasonal record. After defeating Appalachian, the Cagers bowed out of the play-offs by losing to Newberry, concluding the season with a 23-7 record.

After a successful year, Coach Bill Wells is looking anxiously toward the next season. With the first six boys returning, the outlook appears bright for future victories at Lenoir Rhyne.

Hampered by bad weather, Lenoir Rhyne's 1960 baseball team had a dismal season after getting only a few days of much-needed pre-season practice.

Coach Hanley Painter's Bears played only 16 games and finished the year with a 7-9 overall record. They compiled a 6-8 mark in North State Conference play.

Shortstop Danny Thompson led the team in hitting with a .333 average, followed by Lee Farmer's .311 and Bob Watson's .308.

In the pitching department, Gary Hinkle's 2-0 record was the best on a percentage basis. However, Benny Kennerly led the team in victories with three.

In 1960 Lenoir Rhyne's linksmen retained the regular season conference championship and added the tournament crown to their list of honors. Led by Adam Maples the Bears suffered only one defeat during the regular season.

In the golfing highlight of the year Lenoir Rhyne defeated a strong East Carolina College team in the conference championship play-off at the Starmount Country Club in Greensboro. Maples finished second and Bloh fourth in individual competition.

TRACK

The 1960 track team began the season with only five returning members of the 1959 squad. The young team gained momentum as the season progressed and pulled off a sweeping upset victory in the NAIA District 26 meet.

In the season's first meet the Bears dropped a close one to a strong Presbyterian squad. The Bears finished 5th in the High Point Relays and ahead of all other North State Conference entries.

The Bears closed out the season by taking 3rd place in the conference behind strong High Point and Catawba teams.

Eight teams entered the basketball competition. A Championship play-off game found the Morgan Organs emerging as league champions by beating Highland Hall 72-53.

The spring intramural season included volleyball, badminton, softball, and tennis competition.

This has been a year of unification for the North Carolina Alpha chapter of Kappa Sigma Kappa. Because of graduation losses, the scarcity of dorm students, and the slow response of the freshmen, Kappa Sigma Kappa has been faced with the necessity for reorganization, unification, and rebuilding.

We feel that much of this reorganization has been accomplished. Throughout the year, fraternal and social meetings . . . working together on the homecoming float . . . selling "bears" . . . selecting fraternity sweetheart, Miss Brenda Abernathy . . . gathering toys for needy children at Christmas . . . the parties at "Vaughn's Pad."

All these things have contributed to the success of the year, but most responsible was the sincere desire of each member to contribute his share of time and efforts to the brotherhood.

Kappa Sigma Kappa is proud to have earned the title "Lenoir Rhyne's Most Fraternal Fraternity."

The aims and ideals of Sigma Phi Epsilon are high. She strives to develop character and to create high moral standards among members. She offers a challenge for high scholastic, athletic, and social achievements. Guided by Virtue, Diligence, and Brotherly Love—the ideals for which Sigma Phi Epsilon stands—the Sig Eps had a very successful year.

The men wearing the "heart" have fond recollections . . . homecoming float . . . the fall outing . . . the fraternity sweetheart, Miss Jean Avant . . . Intramural football championship . . . serenades . . . intramural champs five out of the last seven years . . . Jean Avant as homecoming queen . . . house parties at the farm . . . Christmas Party for the orphans.

The Sig Eps of 1960-61 can long remember this year as being the best in the history of the North Carolina Theta chapter.

Guided by Tau Kappa Epsilon's cardinal principles of charity, esteem, and love, the fraters and pledges of Delta Iota chapter surged ahead in another record-breaking year.

It was a great year if you could "Teke it," and "Teke it" the fraters of Delta Iota did. Members and pledges alike will recall:

The able leadership of prexy Richard (Dick) Lage . . . the winning homecoming float . . . Linda Davenport, representing Delta Iota chapter, selected as the International Teke sweetheart for the month of March . . . Norma Parham, pin-mate of Vcep Johnson, named as chapter sweetheart . . . the record-breaking pledge class of 43 . . . selling football programs and "Number 1 in the Nation" car tags . . . the outings and "birthday" parties . . . Dick Lage, selected as NAIA football All-American . . . sponsoring bonfires for the Bears . . . parties with the High Point and Western Carolina Tekes . . . the Delt Item . . . only fraternity newspaper on campus . . . the Spring Banquet.

It was a Teke year.

NORMA PARHAM
Sweetheart

Tekes enjoy the "frater in the bond" bit as they socialize around the traditional wiener roast fire at Proctor's cabin. Evidently, a good time is being had by all!

Theta Chi 1960-61 version: enjoyment of the true fraternity fellowship and brotherhood in their participation in campus activities.

Believing in and supporting their motto of "Alma Mater first: Theta Chi for the alma mater," the men of Delta Chi Chapter were very active and influential in directing campus student government.

The men of red and white, adhering to their academic responsibilities, for the second consecutive year, won the Dean of Students highest scholastic average award.

Impressionable memories: intramural competition, enjoyed by all . . . Theta Chi sweetheart, Miss Dorothy Klutz . . . former chapter sweetheart, Leta Kendall, being elected Miss Lenoir Rhyne . . . outings at the "apartment" . . . serenades . . . annual spring banquet . . . outstanding pledge class . . . trips to "The Open Kitchen."

In all their campus activities, Theta Chi men strove to reach their aim of doing everything they can collectively and individually, to strengthen the moral, spiritual, and social development of their fellow brothers and themselves.
